DETAILED ACTION

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities:

On page 4, lines 23-25, the sentence "Table 1 illustrates ... invention" should be deleted since the table is not a part of the Drawings;

On page 11, line12, "FIG.7" should be --FIG 6 --.

Appropriate correction is required.

2. The drawings are objected to because there is no figure 6. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

3. Claims 1-23 of this application conflict with claims 1-23 of Application No. 09/991,098. 37 CFR 1.78(b) provides that when two or more applications filed by the same applicant contain conflicting claims, elimination of such claims from all but one application may be required in the absence of good and sufficient reason for their retention during pendency in more than one application. Applicant is required to either cancel the conflicting claims from all but one application or maintain a clear line of demarcation between the applications. See MPEP § 822.

4. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

5. Claims 1-23 are provisionally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claims 1-23 of copending Application No. 09/991,098. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims 1,3,5-7,10,11,13,15-17, 20 and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Hayakawa (6,329,838).

Hayakawa discloses in figures 5 and 10 an apparatus for determining the number of identical consecutive bits starting from a fix position, including a thermometer code circuit (11-14), a one-hot code circuit (18-26), and a logarithmic code circuit (3) as claimed.

Art Unit: 2124

9. Claims 8,9,18,19,22 and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hayakawa (6,329,838).

It is noted that Hayakawa does not specifically teaches the uses of the apparatus in floating point normalizing, and in quantify run-length coding. However, since the uses of an apparatus for determining the number of identical consecutive bits starting from a fix position in floating point normalizing, and in quantify run-length coding are well-known in the art, it would have been an obvious application to a person of ordinary skill in the art to use the apparatus of Hayakawa in floating point normalizing , and in quantify run-length coding as claimed.

10. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
